

Where Treatment Ends, Continued Care Begins

Womens House~University Park, IL (Will County)

*“Recovery is not about going back to who you were...
it’s about becoming who you were always meant to be.”*

A Place That Feels Like Home – Built for Real Recovery.

Restoration Living is a fully remodeled women’s sober living home designed to provide a safe, structured, and supportive environment for lasting change.

Our Mission

To provide safe, accountable housing for women who are committed to living clean and rebuilding their lives after treatment.

We recognize the critical gap between inpatient treatment and independent living. Restoration Living bridges that gap by offering structure, community, and clear expectations that support long-term recovery—not just short-term sobriety.

What Sets Us Apart

- A structured program focused on accountability and growth
- A strong recovery community where women support one another
- Partnership with Safer Foundation for re-entry and employment support
- Access to Addiction & Recovery Therapy (individual and group)
- 90 meetings in 90 days to build a solid foundation in recovery
- Assistance establishing residency for identification
- Job search support and resume development
- Life skills training including cooking, organization, and daily living

This organization was founded by a recovering addict and an ICU nurse—bringing both lived experience and professional care into one program.

We don’t just place women in housing we walk beside them every step of the way.

Recovery is a journey. At Restoration Living, no one walks it alone.
